Blue eyes

Showstopping eyeshadow is as de rigueur at Christmas parties as dodgy dancing (or is that just us?) This year it's all about blue. Cite Vivienne Westwood and Topshop Unique are your inspiration, then go boldy blue with cobalt, turquoise and navy.

- 1 Apply a good eye primer to make the shadow last and prevent creases.
- 2 Draw blue liner all the way around the eye from the waterline to the top lid and blend to create a deep base at the root of the lash.
- 3 Play with different shades of blue and work around and under the eye and into the lid, using darker shades to create a contour and adding a light blue to the inner corners.
- 4 Curl lashes and apply plenty of coats of blue mascara to build up the intensity of the look.

To create the perfect party look, apply your eye make-up first. Getting eyes done before applying foundation and concealer means you can correct mistakes without having to start over, too.

Va va vinyl

From your lids to your lips, high-octane gloss is huge right now. Thank Etro, call it 'vinyl', then apply with fingertips for added staying power.

1 Press metallic eyeshadow in 1 and around your upper and lower lids using clean fingers.

2 Gently dab lip gloss (or Elizabeth Arden Eight Hour cream for a more subtle sheen) onto your lid with a finger.

3 Click the kohl pencil on 3 the waterline.

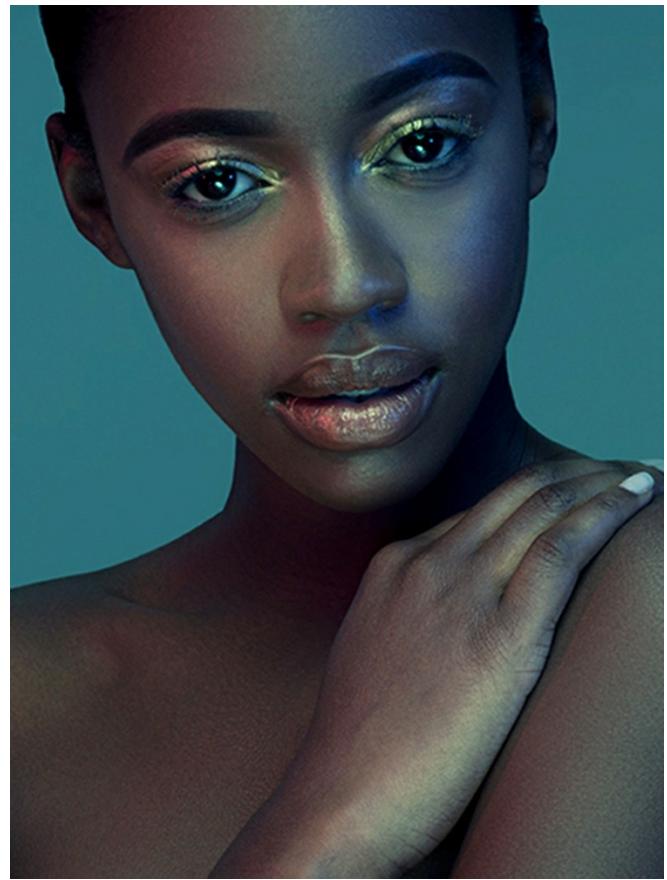

4 Curl your lashes and add black waterproof mascara – the gloss may cause it to run.
