transforming our service

"Before XHIBIT I would have to wait until a case was starting to ascertain the identity of the other barristers involved in the cases that I was involved in that day at that court. This is important at a court where there could be a number of courts housed in different buildings. But now I get this information in advance and I am able to meet them before a case starts to discuss it. XHIBIT also shows me the progress of other cases in the other courts. This assists in the more effective planning and utilisation of my day."
